About the Spotlight

This project aims to identify and promote impactful and scalable solutions that support the engagement of parents in education

At this moment where parents and caregivers are becoming increasingly engaged with education, HundrED together with Kidsburgh, the Center for Universal Education \(CUE\) at Brookings, IDEO, and the Teachers Guild, with financial support from the Grable Foundation, aim to bring together innovative collaborators to help identify, share, and facilitate the use of promising new strategies to build stronger school-family and teacher-parent partnerships.
